Aviat Extends Key Managed Services Contract for 5 Years

$3.8 Million Agreement calls for 24/7 Emergency Field Support, Other Critical Services

SANTA CLARA, Calif., Dec. 2, 2015 /PRNewswire/ -- Aviat Networks, Inc. (NASDAQ: AVNW), the leading expert in microwave networking solutions, today announced that it has signed a five-year contract with a specialized service provider network to provide critical emergency field support solutions, augmenting an existing managed services agreement. Worth an estimated $3.8 million, the agreement calls for Aviat to deliver four-hour emergency on-site ground crew support, emergency on-site tower crew support and other critical product-support-related services for a complete end-to-end services solution.

"Our track record of providing in-field support capabilities is driving demand for Aviat Networks' emergency services," says Michael Pangia, President and CEO, Aviat Networks. "This project continues to reinforce our strong position in the critical and time-sensitive area of emergency field support, and we continue to win longer-term, multi-year awards in North America and are building a global pipeline. Furthermore, our suite of services will enable this customer account to better control costs, accelerate time to revenue and focus on their end users' overall service experience."

Aviat Networks will also provide this leading network provider annual preventive maintenance, repair services with advance replacement and 24/7 remote technical support.

"Overall, network services and support is a growing market and a large opportunity as service providers outsource management of their networks," says Stephane Teral, Research Director, Mobile Infrastructure & Carrier Economics, IHS Technology. "Aviat is differentiated from other microwave specialists in this area as they are the only company that provides the complete end-to-end solution, and we believe they are poised to gain a share of this segment moving forward."
